NEO Pro 3.4.2 review by Jack Smith I have worked with all major email management tools over the years and NEO is by far the easiest to use. It runs flawlessly and is really fast. NEO does a lot of work automatically and in some cases it can be a bit of a pain to go back and forth between Outlook and NEO (due to the number of options in NEO). Nonetheless, the speed and convenience that NEO provides make it a one of a kind tool. Pros: Quick and easy to use. Overlays email in the background. Excellent folder management. Integrated with Outlook. Cons: It can be a bit confusing to use. Email management can be a little bit overwhelming. The "Safe" email folder is not as secure as one might expect. Overall: 7.0 Do you need a better email manager? NEO Pro is a popular and powerful tool that can be the missing piece in your email management puzzle. NEO Pro Review by Conner Henke S

The program is quite simple to set up and operate. After launching it from the main client, select the synchronization option from the notification window. This will initiate the process of message sorting and indexing, which will enable the utility to quickly sort messages by recipients, dates, flags, as well as by various criteria, including the attachment type. Additionally, it is possible to set up the new inbox view, which is optional. NEO Mail Server is a powerful solution for easy sharing of large amounts of email messages. As its name implies, the software is an outlook plugin which allows its users to share different email accounts, such as: Google, Hotmail, Live, Yahoo and Yahoo! Mail. It also provides an extremely convenient way to send email messages directly from Outlook to an external server. With the help of this powerful mail tool, it is easy to split and share files or folders (as well as email messages) between various email accounts. This is accomplished by simply synchronizing the mail with NEO Mail Server. NEO Mail Server can also be utilized as an email forwarding service. This means that an individual can share a mailbox (for example) with three different email addresses: work, home, and mobile. In this case, the user can only access the mailbox from the mobile address. The latter can be achieved either by using a web-based client or the downloadable NEO Mail Server app. E-mail sending options This program can be set up as a desktop-based mail sender, an online mailing server, or as an IMAP client. The last option is accessible via the E-mail tab. Here, it is possible to synchronize email messages with other POP or IMAP email accounts. Mail sending can be performed in two ways. Users can either send one message at a time, or batch-transfer messages. The latter operation is accomplished by means of the notification pop-up, which is displayed whenever there are new messages. The pop-up window offers users a number of options, including: - To enable the user to select the particular messages to send; - To assign a task to be performed by a certain process (e.g. by the Windows scheduler or AutoHotKey); - To select the type of the attachment and the address to which the email message is to be sent. There are numerous ways to monitor incoming and outgoing email messages via the in-built notification system. This is accomplished by means of the following boxes: - To filter out only those messages you are interested in; - To receive an email notifier when someone replies to your message; - To set up your own filter to monitor specific email addresses. Email sending options The program allows users to select the following elements of their mailbox: - Messages; - Attachments; - Folders; - IMAP contacts. It is also possible to add a sent message, message attachments and
